Truman Approves Barkley For Running Mate

New Palestine Truce By Saturday Hinted In Cairo

GUNS HAMMER APPROACH TO JUDEAN HILLS

Increasingly Violent Battle Within Sight of Er Ramle Surrendered to Jews On Monday

ARTILLERY IS USED

BULLETIN
Cairo, July 13—(AP)—Aerial warfare mounted with new fury in the Holy Land today while Arab and Jewish artillery blazed away in the bitter battle for the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway. Egyptian planes bombed Tel Aviv shortly before noon. The Israeli air force attacked the main Egyptian base at Gaza in southwest Palestine last night. The Jews bolstered their position at the eastern end of the Jerusalem-Tel Aviv highway by capturing Suba, a strong-point just below that vital artery five miles west of Jerusalem.

By The Associated Press
A person associated with the Israeli foreign ministry said today there seemed every reason to expect a new Palestine truce by Saturday.
The Israeli army and the crack troops of the Trans-Jordan Arab Legion were fighting an increasingly violent battle within sight of Er Ramle and Lydda for supremacy of the road from Tel Aviv to Jerusalem.
Both cities and an estimated 80,000 Arabs in them surrendered to the Jews Monday. The Legion counterattacked with tanks and artillery and scored some initial success before Israel lines congealed.

The informant in Tel Aviv predicted a new armistice would come from modified proposals Count Folke Bernadotte is expected to place before the United Nations. Jews and Arabs both rejected his proposals last week.
The mediator flew to Lake Success and pleaded before the Security Council that halting the war is the first essential. He personally asked U. S. and British delegates to press for council action.

Cairo, July 13—(AP)—Israeli and Arab Legion commanders threw artillery into a mounting battle for the road to Jerusalem today after two counterattacking mechanized Arab columns had failed to retake Lydda, front dispatches said.
Guns hammered around the rocky approaches to the Judean Hills within sight of Lydda and Er Ramle which the Jews took after two days of fighting.

An informant associated with the Israeli foreign office said in Tel Aviv there seemed every reason to expect a new Palestine truce probably by the end of the week. He said it would stem from modified proposals which Count Bernadotte, the U. N. mediator, is expected to place before the Security Council.
Top Arab state chiefs were in Aleh, Lebanon, for a meeting of the Arab League's Political Committee. No date was set for the session, which will watch developments at Lake Success.

A delayed dispatch from Jerusalem told of considerable air activity by both Jews and Arabs over the Holy City Sunday night. It was believed the Israeli planes bombed Arab Legion concentrations. (Turn to Page Seven)

Pinball and Slot Machines Use Profits For Charity

Philadelphia, July 13—(AP)—A Reading, pinball and slot machine operator whom U. S. District Judge J. Cullen Gandy said used his profits "for philanthropy" was sentenced today to 60 days in jail and fined $5,000 on income tax charges.
Ralph S. Kreitz, the defendant, had pleaded no contest to the charge.
"U. S. District Judge J. Cullen Gandy, who imposed the sentence, said the case was one of the 'most amazing' in his court experience.
"The man has been really a philanthropist," Judge Gandy said. "Most of his profits have been put back into places where they will do a lot of good."

Pennsylvania Delegation Is Almost Completely Aboard Sen. Barkley's Bandwagon

AP Special Service
Philadelphia, July 13—(AP)—The 74-vote Pennsylvania delegation was all but aboard the vice presidential bandwagon of Senator Alben W. Barkley in the Democratic convention today.

The Keystone State banner went around the convention hall right after that of Kentucky in a demonstration touched off by Barkley's keynote address last night.
"It was a great speech. It ought to put him in," Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh told a reporter. "Look at that. He read that whole 24-page address without a falter. He's not old."

L. Lawrence, Democratic national committeeman, has been an early booster for Barkley for the second place on the party's 1948 ticket.
A growing number of other Keystone State delegates also have indicated they favor the Kentucky man.
With Pennsylvania delegates unanimously predicting President Truman's nomination for President on the first ballot, almost all talk in the Keystone state delegation has been about the second place.

Delegation Chairman John S. Rice said he expects to call a caucus to talk the whole thing over some time during the day. Rice explained he will not fix a time until the delegates reassemble for the morning sessions.

Tentative arrangements for a counting of noses in the delegation yesterday were cancelled by Rice to give party leaders more time to find "who is available" for vice president.

In addition to Barkley, names mentioned as possibilities have included Senator Joseph W. O'Mahoney of Wyoming and Paul V. McNutt, now of New York.

Former Senator Joseph P. Guffey and his sister, Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, Democratic National committeewoman, have announced they favor Senator O'Mahoney. Guffey added Senator Barkley "is a good man too."

Mrs. Bertie Kehoe, of Somerset, one of the delegates objecting to President Truman, mentioned the name of McNutt.

"I am sure his name will be placed in nomination and there will be votes for him," she told a reporter.

Mrs. Kehoe said she received thousands of letters recently from all sections of Pennsylvania as a result of her demand last June that the delegation keep an open mind on president.

On the "favorite son" front, Everett Zurn, Erie delegate, was boosting the stock of Pennsylvania's Senator Francis J. Myers. He said the Philadelphia man was young and from the east.

Asked if he had the consent of Myers, Zurn said "I haven't talked to him about it. I am doing it on my own."

Austin E. McCollough, Jr., of Lancaster, also was reported ready to bring forward the name of Federal Judge Guy Bard of Philadelphia if the question of "favorite son" candidates comes up.

Philadelphia, July 13—(AP)—Dear Alben did it. No dark horse but an old and honored wheelhorse of the new deal, Senator Alben W. Barkley, rode to the rescue of the torpid Democratic national convention.

In 68 stirring minutes of old-fashioned sledge hammer oratory last night he welded the quarrelling delegates together in a tremendous outburst of party enthusiasm.

They gave him a 28-minute ovation. It was the first time the Democrats had found anything they could agree to cheer—or be cheerful about.

It was an antique bugle Barkley blew and an old but popular tune—the call to battle. It is the call that through the ages has made men bury their differences and fall in line.

As he stood there, a chunky, powerful man in a white linen suit, he was a kind of elderly David trying with verbal music to win King Saul. In this case the Democratic convention—back from black depression to hopeful action.

Like any veteran commander who knows that no army wins by internal weakness, he stressed Democratic claims of achievement rather than convention differences.

His powerful, old-time eloquence hit at the Republican enemy time after time, but he never mentioned the two key words that have split this convention like a raw, red wound—civil rights.

The delegates cheered repeatedly in praise of the new deal record and his quips at the Republicans. (Turn to Page Seven)

MORE PLANES ARE ASSIGNED TO AIR LIFT

Americans Come Up With Two Counter Measures To Protracted Russian Blockade

SKYMASTERS ARRIVE

Berlin, July 13—(AP)—The Americans came up with two counter measures today to the protracted Russian blockade of Berlin. They assigned more transports to the air lift into the city and went to work expanding the facilities of Tempelhof airfield.

Meanwhile, the British were reported sending fresh ground troops into Germany, with many said to be slated for Berlin duty. The report was specially denied in London, however.

Five C-54 Skymasters arrived in Frankfurt today from the United States and four more are expected in the next few hours. The new group is under command of Col. Glen R. Eurchard of Bay City, Mich.

In announcing the plane set-up last night, U. S. Air Force headquarters in Washington said the nine additional Skymasters will bring to 160 the total of two and four engine transports at American disposal in Germany.

Workmen at Tempelhof dumped tons of rubble into an excavation for an additional runway. Air Force officers said the new 5,000-foot landing strip would be large enough to accommodate huge B-29 bombers but added that there was no need for using B-29s in the present operation.

The new runway is being built parallel to the old one and will give the field two all-weather and one grass landing strip. It will take six weeks to complete the new strip.

Despite bad weather at Frankfurt today both U. S. and British planes were arriving in Berlin on schedule bringing food and essential supplies from western Germany to the isolated western sectors of the city.

The Russians' Berlin newspaper Tageliche Posten said the western Allies' air operation was being carried out "without regard for the nerves and repose of millions of persons who have not yet forgotten the terror of bomb attacks, who still mourn relatives who died under American and British fire bombs or are buried under the rubble of peaceful residential sections." The newspaper described the air ferrying service as the "circus parades on Tempelhof airport."

Arthur Henderson, British secretary of state for air, said Russia will have to bear the blame for the economic paralysis "bound to be felt with increasing severity" in Berlin.

Here on an inspection tour, Henderson told newsmen the British-American air armada "cannot of course maintain the economic standard" of the city although food supplies can be kept up.

He said the British planned to open a second airbase at Fassberg, in the British zone to be devoted entirely to the lift. British planes have been flying from a field near Hannover.

The effective rate increase will coincide with increases in interstate passenger fares approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission last week.

The rate boost will jump one-way coach fares 20 per cent or approximately three cent a mile, while one-way pullman fares go up 14.3 per cent or about four cents a mile.

In addition, the new rates include a minimum children's fare of 10 cents between points in Pennsylvania. A previous commission order established the minimum for adults at 15 cents.

The commission said excess baggage charges are to be increased in proportion to the increases in fares for pullman travel.

Round trip fares will be increased proportionately under the new rates for distances over 235 miles. For distances over this limit, the new three-month, round-trip fares in pullmans will decline from four cents a mile at 225 miles approximately 3.6 cents per mile at 700 miles.

Parley In Whispers

Sen. Alben W. Barkley, keynoter of the Democratic Convention and leading candidate for the party's vice-presidential nomination, receives a whispered message from his colleague, Sen. Tom Connally of Texas, on the floor of Convention Hall in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Edwards and Her Steak Stir Democratic Convention

Philadelphia, July 13—(AP)—This is about a raw steak, held aloft in the dainty hands of a lady wearing diamonds.

The Democrats are feeling a little stronger today because of this steak, plus some salty oratory and 28 minutes of strenuous exercise in the steam room.

First of all, the steak. It was a real one, a medium-sized sirloin, raw, red, limp and damp. It was introduced in evidence, so to speak, by Mrs. India Edwards, chairman of the women's division of the national committee. She was proving a point with it.

Mrs. Edwards, handsome and fashionable in after-dinner black, brought a market bag with her, when she made her speech, blaming the Republicans for the high cost of food. The bag contained a quart of milk, a pound of margarine and the red meat.

The price of each was stated by the speaker. And if her object was to startle her hearers with the steak, she achieved it in full measure. They gasped, gulped, then laughed and cheered.

It hung in her hand, oozing limply down between her fingers, and partly obscuring the diamond rings that glittered and twinkled in the bright light. It looked somehow, like a red jelly-fish stuck on a trident encrusted with jewels.

Mrs. Edwards told her audience how much she had paid for it. Then she put it down on the rostrum beside her. Because of the slant in the rostrum, the steak began to creep downhill until it was dripping partly over the edge.

She retrieved it, to the delight of the photographers who asked her to hold it up again "for just one more." Mrs. Edwards complied.

This could not have continued much longer. The convention hall was so hot that, very shortly, the steak would have begun to broil. She tossed it into a large white box with green stripes that also housed a large toy balloon. The balloon was supposed to symbolize inflation.

Mrs. Edwards' steak and the rolling periods of Senator Alben W. Barkley's keynote speech, delivered just before, put the Democrats in a mood they have not known since the convention began.

The senator is a square-set, barrel-bodied man with white hair and a flinty, fighting face. He delivered a fighting speech, and it was just what the strife-torn Democrats wanted to hear.

Philadelphia, July 13—(AP)—Embattled Democratic platform drafters today skipped a point-by-point endorsement of President Truman's civil rights program.

But, in a compromise move intended to reunite the southern and self-styled "liberal" party wings, they wrote what some Truman supporters called a "strong" race issue plank.

Phrased only in general terms it is reported to omit the far-reaching states' rights declaration angry Dixie delegates had demanded.

The 4,500-word document, drawn by a subcommittee for action late today by the 108-member full platform committee, calls for repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor act and for an increase in the minimum wage from 40 cents to 75 cents an hour.

Some of the drafters voiced confidence that the compromise will avert any floor fight when the platform goes before the national convention tomorrow for ratification. Others, however, were not so sure.

One said the race plank was adopted despite White House pressure for "much more" on civil rights. President Truman was in frequent touch with the platform writers throughout their long toil. They put the last words to the semi-final document at 4 a. m. today.

The second preliminary draft was stamped "secret" just as was the first and somewhat different version proposed by a smaller committee 24 hours earlier.

Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York, member of the platform group, said the platform drafters "snapped their fingers" at the state department and "gave them a shelling" in the Palestine plank.

Senator Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania, platform chairman, said the document probably will not be placed before the convention for ratification until tomorrow. The original time table called for ratification late today.

KENTUCKY SENATOR APPEARS LIKELY CHOICE FOR SECOND PLACE ON DEMOCRATIC TICKET

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, July 13—(AP)—President Truman put the word today that he "will be most happy" to have Senator Alben W. Barkley as his presidential running mate. That appeared to clinch a Truman-Barkley ticket for the Democrats.

Democratic Chairman J. Howard McGrath, announcing the president's sentiment, said Mr. Truman had not closed the door to others however and was leaving it to the Democratic convention to say who should run with him against the Republican team of Thomas E. Dewey and Earl Warren.

But the delegates filing into this hall were obviously in a mood to turn to Barkley. They gave the 70-year-old Kentucky senator a 28-minute rousing demonstration last night after he made a fighting keynote speech.

Informed of McGrath's statement, Barkley told reporters: "I still have no statement to make as far as I'm concerned."

"I'm not trying to be evasive but I've got to make up my own mind as to whether I would accept under any condition, and I'm not going to make up my mind while I am temporary chairman (of the convention)."

"After I get out from under that, maybe I'll have something to say."

As keynoter of the convention, Barkley is the temporary chairman. Barkley told reporters earlier that the president had telephoned him congratulations on his keynote speech but had said nothing about the vice presidency.

Along with announcing the White House welcome mat is out for Barkley, McGrath told a news conference.

It is possible President Truman will address what may be the closing session of the convention tomorrow night.

(Dispatches from Washington said the president's tentative decision is to fly here accompanied by Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, and to return to Washington immediately after a short address to the convention.)

McGrath said he hopes the convention can meet in almost continuous session tomorrow to wind up its business.

This would mean jamming through adoption of a platform and selection of presidential and vice presidential candidates into one day.

A reporter asked what was the reason for the speedup.

"The heat of Philadelphia," McGrath replied.

All signs had pointed strongly to Barkley for the last 12 hours.

In the nearly half hour it lasted it showed that the old warhorse had made a lot of friends in the Democratic party since the late President Roosevelt named him "Dear Alben" letter in 1937 and thereby made him the party's senate leader.

Last night's demonstration—which some Dixie delegates were hating was longer than the one Mr. Truman will receive when he wins the party's presidential nomination Wednesday—made some quick converts.

Barkley touched off the demonstration for himself with a rip-roaring attack on the Republicans.

He brought the house down with a sally at Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the GOP nominee, who called in his acceptance speech for a house cleaning to sweep the cobwebs out of Washington.

"When the Democratic party took over the government of the United States 16 years ago," the white clad, perspiring Kentuckian roared, "even the spiders were so weak that they could not weave a cobweb in any department of the government of the United States."

The delegates liked it and stood up and yelled.

When the senator finished a few minutes later, a palpably manufactured demonstration began for him. A sweating delegate whirled into the air a sign proclaiming "Barkley for Vice President."

The march was on to the tune of "My Old Kentucky Home."

But when the band swung into "Stars and Stripes Forever," the delegates picked up enthusiasm. Pretty soon they were shouting (Turn to Page Seven)

Two district young men narrowly escaped death or serious injury last night at 7:45 o'clock when their low-flying airplane struck a span of Bell Telephone wires and plunged into the Allegheny river at Shipman's Eddy near Hemlock.

The pilot, Everett Elliott, of Glade township, R. D. 1, Warren, and his passenger, Lee McDowell of Warren, reportedly suffered lacerations and were badly shaken up in the crash. They were taken to Warren General Hospital where they received emergency treatment and were later discharged.

V. S. (Skip) King, manager of the Warren airport said the plane, a Fairchild, was owned by the King Air Service and was used for training purposes. He said the plane was virtually demolished by the crash, and estimated loss at about $1,200.

One wing of the ship was ripped off, while the propeller, motor and front end of the fuselage were heavily damaged. He said the wreckage would be removed from the river today and taken to the hangar at the Warren airport for salvage of undamaged parts.

Elliott and McDowell were returning to the Warren airport after a flight upstream. The pilot said it was hazy and that as they rounded a bend in the river, he saw wires directly in front of the plane.

The landing gear caught in the cables, causing the plane to plunge less than 100 feet into the river according to reports.

The price of each was stated by the speaker. And if her object was to startle her hearers with the steak, she achieved it in full measure. They gasped, gulped, then laughed and cheered.

It hung in her hand, oozing limply down between her fingers, and partly obscuring the diamond rings that glittered and twinkled in the bright klieg lights. It looked somehow, like a red jellyfish stuck on a trident encrusted with jewels.

Mrs. Edwards told her audience how much she had paid for it. Then she put it down on the rostrum beside her. Because of the slant in the rostrum, the steak began to creep downhill until it was dripping partly over the edge.

She retrieved it, to the delight of the photographers who asked her to hold it up again "for just one more." Mrs. Edwards complied.

This could not have continued much longer. The convention hall was so hot that, very shortly, the steak would have begun to broil. She tossed it into a large white box with green stripes that also housed a large toy balloon. The balloon was supposed to symbolize inflation.

Mrs. Edwards' steak and the rolling periods of Senator Alben W. Barkley's keynote speech, delivered just before, put the Democrats in a mood they have not known since the convention began.

The senator is a square-set, barrel-bodied man with white hair and a flinty, fighting speech, and it was just what the strife-torn Democrats wanted to hear.

Chicago, July 13—(AP)—With livestock pounding out new price records every few days, no immediate drop in the high cost of living on meat was seen today.

Both private trade experts and the agriculture department agreed the near future outlook offered slight hope for the consumer. If anything, prices probably will go higher later this summer, they said.

The prospect for lower prices next year was called encouraging, although largely hinged on the hope of a bumper corn crop this autumn.

Hog prices at Chicago yesterday equaled their all time record of $30.50 a hundred pounds. A new record of $30.25 was made at East St. Louis, Ill. Other midwestern markets rang up prices at about all time peaks.

Pretty much the same story was told in cattle and sheep. East St. Louis had an all time record for choice steers at $38.75. Steers at Chicago touched $40.00, equalling the July record set last week. Lambs also were bringing the highest price for any July in history at $32.00.

George Dressler, secretary of the National Retail Meat Dealers Association, said the normal summer falling off in demand for meat had appeared this year but wasn't big enough to make up for the shortage in meat production.

"Prices probably are the highest on record at retail shops," Dressler admitted.

Pittsburgh, July 13—(AP)—"Grandma" Dent had cake and beer at her 105th birthday party yesterday. She likes beer. She has a glass every afternoon.

Grandma—Mrs. Eliza Dent—won't be 105 till Thursday but the folks at the nursing home decided to celebrate a little early. She's been living there the last eight years and is the pride of the home.

A native of Devonshire, England, Mrs. Dent came to America in 1903. She still reads newspapers without using glasses, entertains the other residents at the home with her singing and has won prizes for waltzing.

She says her philosophy is: "Live—that your sleep at night may be calm and untroubled."

Blackmailer's Victim Well Known Here

Harry A. Callahan, 55, of Sinnemahoning, is being held in the Cameron county jail in default of $10,000 bail following his arrest on 12 counts of blackmail and extortion.

Callahan allegedly sent three threatening letters to George Erskine, head of the Sylvania Company in Erie, between the dates of September 11, 1947 and June 10, 1948. In the letters, Callahan is said to have demanded $32,000 from Erskine with harm to Erskine's children to follow if the money was not forthcoming.

State police added Erskine in setting a trap for the extortionist and a dummy package of money was prepared, impregnated with an invisible dye which would show up under a special light. All business places in the county were warned to be on the lookout for certain bills contained in the package.

When leads obtained from handwriting and other sources indicated that Callahan was implicated, he was questioned by police, and arrest followed when his wallet and trousers revealed a green glow from the dye. Callahan is later said to have confessed.

Mr. Erskine is well known in Warren, being the son of Ben Erskine, one of the founders of the Sylvania Company and who was employed in Warren by C. Beckley, Inc., as a young man. He is the nephew of the late T. Richard Evans and Mrs. Evans of Warren.

Steady Attendance Rise At Borough's Playgrounds

While attendance figures dropped slightly last week at Warren's six playground areas, for a total of 4,812, figures reported by Director Inez Rudolph show the number to be 1,207 in excess of those tabulated for the same period last year.

An added consideration is the fact that all play spots were closed Monday for the holiday observance, excepting Home Street and Crescent, which were open during the afternoon hours.

Because of the opening of the South Side wading pool, that area continued to top the smaller playgrounds with 1,057. In the previous week, it forged ahead of all the others, topping Beady by 17. Mushball and basketball are being played at all the areas, both afternoons and evenings and the following tournaments are scheduled for this week: Volley ball; singles and doubles for both juniors and seniors in the horseshoe pitching; and deck tennis.

Youngsters at all the grounds are looking forward to the annual pot show to be staged next Wednesday, July 21.

Several group gatherings have been planned at the play areas for this week, the First Evangelical United Brethren church to have a picnic at Crescent from noon until 3 p. m. Friday and the First Baptist church scheduling a picnic from 1:30 to 9:00 p. m., on Saturday, July 17.

This week will mark completion of the first half of the season's schedule and the youngsters are looking forward to several events which are annual high spots in the summer program.

One of these will be the pet show to be staged at all grounds next Wednesday, July 21; another is the annual Hobby Fair Week, July 20-31. The annual doll show contests will be staged the week of August 2-7 and Projects Display Week is the feature for August 9-14.

All tournaments will close the week of August 9-14 and preparations will get under way for the closing week, with its annual Picnic-Play day and presentation of the season's awards.

WHEELS IS OUT OF

Just think of it—one ounce out of balance equals twelve pounds of vibration in your car.

Rites Held In Tidioute For Soldier Boy

Final rites for Pfc. Melvin E. Yeager, who died in action on July 7, 1944, were held from the Sage Funeral Home in Tidioute at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, with a large number of relatives and friends attending.

The services were conducted by Rev. Earl P. Muller, of the First Baptist church, and Rev. H. M. Stevenson, of the Methodist church. Interment followed in Tidioute cemetery, with the following serving as bearers: George McKown, Herman Knight, Donald and James King and Ernest Johnson.

Pfc. Yeager, son of Mrs. Sarah Smith, Tidioute, was assigned to an infantry intelligence unit and had been in the army less than one year.

He was inducted into the army in October, 1943, and received his training at Camp Wheeler, Ga. He was sent to England in April, 1944, and on to France on April 17, to lose his life in action on July 7.

He was a graduate of Tidioute High School, Class of 1943, and was a member of the Methodist Sunday school.

Besides his mother, he leaves a brother and a sister, Gilbert and Donna Jean Yeager; two half-brothers, Ronald and Edwin Smith, and his stepfather, Henry Smith; also his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Yeager, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Anthony, and a wide circle of friends. His father, Paul Yeager, lost his life in a motorcycle accident a number of years ago.

Blackmailer's Victim Well Known Here

Harry A. Callahan, 55, of Sinnemahoning, is being held in the Cameron county jail in default of $10,000 bail following arrest on 12 counts of blackmail and extortion.

Callahan allegedly sent three threatening letters to George Erskine, head of the Sylvania Company in Emporium, between the dates of September 11, 1947 and June 10, 1948. In the letters, Callahan is said to have demanded $25,000 from Erskine with harm to Erskine's children to follow if the money was not forthcoming.

State police added Erskine in setting a trap for the extortionist and a dummy package of money was prepared, impregnated with an invisible dye which would show up under a special light. All business places in the county were warned to be on the lookout for certain bills contained in the package.

When leads obtained from handwriting and other sources indicated that Callahan was implicated, he was questioned by police, and arrest followed when his wallet and trousers revealed a green glow from the dye. Callahan is later said to have confessed.

Mr. Erskine is well known in Warren, being the son of Ben Erskine, one of the founders of the Sylvania Company and who was employed in Warren by C. Beckley, Inc., as a young man. He is the nephew of the late T. Richard Evans and Mrs. Evans of Warren.

Steady Attendance Rise At Borough's Playgrounds

While attendance figures dropped slightly last week at Warren's six playground areas, for a total of 4,812, figures reported by Director Inez Rudolph show the number to be 1,207 in excess of those tabulated for the same period last year.

An added consideration is the fact that all play spots were closed Monday for the holiday observance, excepting Home Street and Crescent, which were open during the afternoon hours.

Because of the opening of the South Side wading pool, that area continued to top the smaller playgrounds with 1,057. In the previous week, it forged ahead of all the others, topping Beatty by 17.

Musical and basketball are being played at all the areas, both afternoons and evenings and the following tournaments are scheduled for this week: Volley ball; singles and doubles for both juniors and seniors in the horseshoe pitching; and deck tennis.

Youngsters at all the grounds are looking forward to the annual pet show to be staged next Wednesday, July 21.

Several group gatherings have been planned at the play areas for this week. The First Evangelical United Brethren church to have a picnic at Crescent from noon until 4 p. m. Friday and the First Baptist church scheduling a picnic from 1:30 to 9:00 p. m., on Saturday, July 17.

This week will mark completion of the first half of the season's schedule and the youngsters are looking forward to several events which are annual high spots in the summer program.

One of these will be the pet show to be staged at all grounds next Wednesday, July 21; another is the annual Hobby Fair Week, July 20-31. The annual doll show contests will be staged the week of August 2-7 and Projects Display Week is the feature for August 9-14.

All tournaments will close the week of August 9-14 and preparations will get under way for the closing week, with its annual Picnic-Play day and presentation of the season's awards.

B. G. Ackert Has Musical Post In Waco

Relatives of Bernard G. Ackert, formerly of 209 Dobson avenue, this city, have received word of his recent appointment as minister of music at the First Methodist church of Waco, Texas.

Mr. Ackert is a senior in the Music School of Baylor University at Waco, where he entered in 1946 under the GI Bill of Rights. During his three and one-half years in the army, he served as chaplain's assistant and organist.

Mr. Ackert is now an instructor in string instruments in Baylor University Symphony Orchestra for two years and in the Waco Orchestra for one year. He is affiliated with the A Cappella Choir and the Radio Choir of the school, which broadcasts regularly over KWBU.

This spring he composed music for one stanza of Robert Browning's "Rabbi Ben Ezra" and the autographed copy has been accepted by the famous Browning Library of Baylor University.

Mr. Ackert is married to the former Martha Joyce Binford, of Beeville, Texas, and has one son, Edward Binford, eight months of age. Mr. Ackert is a graduate of Baylor University.

It is expected the family will visit in Warren later this summer.

A car operated by Loren Larrow of Kane drove over the snake and then Edward Fragale, in a car immediately following shot it with a .22 calibre rifle.

BROTHERHOOD CHANGE

Today's rain has made necessary a change in picnic plans for St. Paul's Brotherhood and members will forego their outing at Beatty Field and hold their regular meeting at the church at 7:30 o'clock. Serving as the committee for this month are Henry Jacobson, Carl Lundahl and Harry Nelson.

51ST BIRTHDAY

A booster line was used to extinguish the fire and total damage is estimated at about $25.

RAILROADER HURT

George Reeves, Oil City, well-known employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad throughout this area, is in the Buffalo General Hospital suffering from injuries received in a railroading accident Sunday afternoon. #### BREAK IN STRIKE

The first break in the six-week old strike at the Holgate Brothers Company at Kane, will come on Wednesday, when negotiations will be reopened, Chester W. Sande, UMW regional representative, has announced. The local bargaining committee and company representative, along with a federal conciliator and district UMW representatives will meet at the company offices, Sande said. Three hundred and fifty workers left their jobs on June 2 when negotiations collapsed after a one-day extension of the old contract.

COURTESY IS FOR EVERYDAY WEAR

Call it what you like, but so-called "popularity" is all wrapped up in courtesy. The most popular girls make courtesy a part of everyday, family living. They don't have to polish it up for special occasions. It's just there—ready for use at all times, tips an article in Successful Farming.

Courtesy is cheerfulness. It's remembering the little things that are important to other people. Courtesy can roll out of bed with you in the morning. Maybe you'll set the table for your mother just to please her. And a bright "good morning" accompanied by a kiss for your dad might make all the difference in the world when you're asking for a favor later. But these acts aren't just for the morning; they should last throughout the day.

Unless you want to be Public Nuisance No. 1, keep up the smooth poise in public. It reflects your home life. Loud talk and giggling will give you plenty of attention, sure, but it's the wrong kind of attention.

Everyone likes to have her gum and chew it, too. But do take it easy. Chewing and cracking gum can become most annoying to your neighbors.

The popular girl is popular with everyone because she's friendly to everyone. She doesn't cater to the "gang" and ignore the mousey little girl from the wrong side of the tracks. If anything, she's even more considerate of the "mouse"—and that might serve as a tip for you.

Any girl wants to shine in the eyes of the boy she's dating, or wants to date. Being on time is an asset to any girl, and a big point in courtesy. You know how you hate to be kept waiting.

Flatter his manliness when you're out. If you're in a car, don't forget to let your date open the doors for you. Not that you can't, but letting boys be courteous makes them feel important.

Coming in quietly, but on time at night is the highest compliment a teen-ager can give her parents. If you are quiet, close doors carefully and tiptoe when your family is in bed, you will have carried courtesy habits right through the day.

GREAT RIDDLE OF CONVENTION

The great riddle as the Democratic convention swelters is how to close it, says Peter Edson, NEA staff correspondent, in a special dispatch to The Times-Mirror.

Then he asks: Shall President Truman be brought to Philadelphia from Washington to thrill the revolt-corn ranks of his party with one of his now-famous off-the-cuff demonstrations of his dynamic personality, and send the rebels home reunited to do and die for the ticket of Truman and Blank? Roosevelt did that in 1936, with a mass rally in the stadium next to convention hall.

Those in charge of this convention for Mr. Truman—principally J. Howard McGrath, the National Chairman, and Sergeant at Arms Leslie Binie—apparently haven't made up their minds on this momentous question.

The alternative to having the President make his acceptance speech in Philadelphia is to have him go back to Independence, Mo., and be formally notified of the nomination there. You can imagine the scene:

The President would casually announce that he was going home for a few days' rest. He would be sitting on the porch in his shirt sleeves and slippers, and with his television make-up on. When all of a sudden who should come down the street but a committee of distinguished Dems.

The band would wheel up and render a few bars of Beethoven's Fifth—you know, dit, dit, dit, daa—the old war-time V-for-Victory. One of the delegation would then step forward and read a piece, saying that at a recent spontaneous gathering of distinguished and unbiased public citizens in the city of Brotherly Love, it had been unanimously decided to run Judge Truman for President. Surprise, surprise, surprise!

Nobody would be prepared for this event—except 100 newspapermen, photographers, the newsreels, the radio speakers and recorders and all the Democrats within a day's drive of Independence.

Judge Truman, blushing modestly, would then deliver a few impromptu remarks—carefully prepared in advance by his ghost-writers to make sure he dedicated the spot to the right guy this time, meaning himself.

The supposed advantages to this program are that it would add a homey, down-in-old-Missouri touch to what is starting to look as a pretty sordid and soggy convention. Also, it would give the delegates time in which to go home and patch of their wounds and feud-shattered friendships.

The great riddle as the Democratic convention swelters is how to close it, says Peter Edson, NEA staff correspondent, in a special dispatch to The Times-Mirror.

Then he asks: Shall President Truman be brought to Philadelphia from Washington to thrill the revolt-torn ranks of his party with one of his now-famous off-the-cuff demonstrations of his dynamic personality, and send the rebels home reunited to do and die for the ticket of Truman and Blank? Roosevelt did that in 1936, with a mass rally in the stadium next to convention hall.

Those in charge of this convention for Mr. Truman—principally J. Howard McGrath, the National Chairman, and Sergeant at Arms Leslie Biffle—apparently haven't made up their minds on this momentous question.

The alternative to having the President make his acceptance speech in Philadelphia is to have him go back to Independence, Mo., and be formally notified of the nomination there. You can imagine the scene:

The President would casually announce that he was going home for a few days' rest. He would be sitting on the porch in his shirt sleeves and slippers, and with his television make-up on. When all of a sudden who should come down the street but a committee of distinguished Dems.

The band would wheel up and render a few bars of Beethoven's Fifth—you know, dit, dit, dit, daa—the old war-time V-for-Victory. One of the delegation would then step forward and read a piece, saying that at a recent spontaneous gathering of distinguished and unbiased public citizens in the city of Brotherly Love, it had been unanimously decided to run Judge Truman for President. Surprise, surprise, surprise!

Nobody would be prepared for this event—except 100 newspapermen, photographers, the newsreels, the radio spikers and recorders and all the Democrats within a day's drive of Independence.

Judge Truman, blushing modestly, would then deliver a few impromptu remarks—carefully prepared in advance by his ghost-writers to make sure he dedicated the spot to the right guy this time, meaning himself.

The supposed advantages to this program are that it would add a homey, down-in-old-Missouri touch to what is starting out as a pretty sordid and soggy convention. Also, it would give the delegates time in which to go home and patch of their wounds and feud-shattered friendships.

SOCIETY

Isabel Randinelli And Louis J. Vescio Are Wed July 10th

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Randinelli, Irvine, announce the marriage of their daughter, Isabel, to Louis J. Vescio, son of Mrs. Mary Vescio, 1406 Pennsylvania avenue, west, this city.

The ceremony was performed at 11 a. m. Saturday, July 10, in St. Luke's church in Irvine. Father Edward Jacobs officiated before an altar beautifully decorated with gladioli. Choir members from St. Joseph's church, Warren, sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother." Andrew and Benjamin Randinelli, brother of the bride, served Father Jacobs at the altar.

The bride wore traditional white satin with train, chiffon inserts marking an off-the-shoulder neckline. Her lace-edged veil fell fingertip length from a beaded coronet and red roses fashioned her bouquet.

She was given in marriage by her father and attended by Philomena Randinelli, Tidoute, as maid of honor; Mrs. Isabel Atkin, Grove City, and Betty Johnson, Jamestown, N. Y., as bridesmaids. Their frocks were of taffeta, in aqua, pink and yellow, respectively, with matching flower head bandeaus. The maid of honor and Mrs. Atkin carried pink roses; Miss Johnson's were of a yellow shade.

John Randinelli, brother of the bride, was best man for Mr. Vescio and ushers were Dominic DeMarco, nephew of the bridegroom, and Anthony Font.

The bride's mother chose a yellow sheer print and the bridegroom's mother wore navy, each with red rose corsage.

Dinner was served at the Marconi Outing Club for 70 guests and the reception was held there from two until five o'clock for 100 guests. Carnations were used in the bride's table appointments.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Charles Goss, Jeanette Connolly, Mrs. Flannigan, Lorraine Brakeman, Evelyn Bedient, Mary Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. Manwood Smith, Audrey Aigren, Lois Meeder, Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Randinelli, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. John Principi, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Piccirilli, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Carvino, Ridgway, Ethel Wyckoff, Corry.

For a wedding trip to Canadian points, the bride chose a gray gaudy suit, with Kelly green accessories, and red rose corsage. The couple will be at home after July 18 at Irvine.

The bride, graduated from Warren High School with the Class of 1941 and the W. C. A. Hospital School of Nursing in 1947, is currently employed by the latter institution.

Mr. Vescio attended the local high school and is employed by the G. G. Greene Company.

Pre-nuptial parties were given by Mrs. Andrew Randinelli and Mrs. Joseph Kulbacki, mother and aunt of the bride; Mrs. Helen

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 3
I SLID past him and into the house, very official.
"More investigation?" he asked, following me.

"Just routine," I soothed him. "I want to see the place where Mr. Ealing died. Just tell me where it is, and keep watch by this door, Mr. Kuhl."

"Kuhl? Kuhl? I'm a lawyer, Diane—Mrs. Ealing told me to come and help out. Mr. Ealing was found dead in his gun room, to the left there."

"Who's here besides yourself and Mrs. Ealing?"
"Two servants in the kitchen," I said, and walked through the house. In the garden I found a pudgy man and a bony woman, both past middle age. "Police checkup," I told them, and they said they were Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhl, Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhl, Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhl.

The man had a mitten of brown on his right hand and I wondered about it but took no time to ask. I wanted to get to the gun room and stepped back into the hall. I opened the door, a heavy one that opened inward. Its lock was smashed loose. Somebody had kicked the door open.

I went in. There was dark brown carpeting on the floor and in the center showed a big smear of blood. The place was full of guns. A man once called like organ pipes in a glass-fronted cabinet, and older, showier ones crossed or slanted on the wall to make a show.

Then there was a fine old mahogany desk, fitted up with two vases and a tool rack to make it into a workbench. Near it at the edge of the brown carpet stood a tightly made wooden box full of waste, the return a ballistics expert rigs up to catch fired bullets in for special examination. I slipped into the drawers of the desk.

"What do you think you're looking for?" asked a sweet, deadly voice behind me.

I looked around.

In the doorway stood a woman of thirty or so, with sorrel hair and steady green eyes.

She wore a blue negligee that showed off her trim, trim figure in a way that ordinarily would bring a whistle. But I didn't give way to admiration.

For in her hand she held a shiny gun, no longer than her forefinger.

"I understand," she said, "that you told the servants you were a police detective. That is a lie. I know all the men of the home."

"What?" I asked. They were good friends of my husband?"
So she was Diane Ealing.

"STAND easy there, fakes," said James Kuhl's voice over her shoulder. "Give me the gun, Diane."

He took it. "Hands up," he said to me. Remembering the hole in Ealing's body, I lifted my hands. "Diane," he said, "call the police."

She started to go, but I called: "Wait!" Her green eyes turned back. "Wait for what?"

"I won't stay here to be arrested," I said. "I'm going, very quietly. If you shoot me, it will be the second shooting in this room and the cops will think that borders on the peculiar."

They stood looking at each other. One hand and pointed to the gun Kuhl held. "The second shooting," I elaborated, "with that kind of a gun." It was just the sort of gun that must have killed Ealing.

Kuhl and Diane Ealing looked at each other.

"Jim," said Diane Ealing, turning to Kuhl. She was white, and looked sick enough to drop. "Get him out of here."

"What?" At the front door he tapped my shoulder with the nose of the derringer.

"Turn around."

I turned. He switched the gun to his left hand, and belted me with his right.

"That's a souvenir. Now march. Don't come back."

I couldn't argue against the deringer.

J. D. sat in the car. When she saw me, her two-tone eyes lighted up and she smiled happily.

"Who hit you?" she squealed. "I touched my swelling eye. That man Kuhl."

"Get in," she said, "and tell me if you got anything in there besides the black eye."

While we whizzed back downtown I told her about the deringer. "Ealing was drilled with a big bullet that didn't go clear through him," I reminded her.

"Police will be holding the death gun," said J. D. "Then the one I saw will be the mate to it. Those old deringers were sold in pairs. How time flies in your chariot. Here we are in front of our office building."

Up at the office we went on talking. Now, about Attorney Jim Kuhl," she took up the story. "He's a mighty solid with the lovely widow."

"Did Mrs. Unhappy Ealing kill her husband and make it look like suicide? That's another angle."

"And the servants," reminded J. D. "Still another angle. Then there's Dr. Stokes, the man I met at the morgue."

"The papers say he was present when the body was found," D. thought for a moment. "Jeez, how much money have you?"

I must have stared. "Maybe fifty dollars. Why?" "Because when I gave you a job, I hadn't any money for you. It had better be just a partnership."

"Grinned, to cheer her up. "Full partner?"

She smiled back. "Junior partner. It's my town. I have the connections. And the case was mine to start with."

"It's a deal. Let's have dinner at a good restaurant to celebrate the change is due to taking TRU-AID. Her pains are gone now. No more feeling like a knife gouged into her muscles. She is entirely free of her misery, thanks to this remarkable compound."

NEURITIS PAINS LIKE AN ELECTRIC SHOCK TO A LOCAL WOMAN

Just recently a middle-aged woman of this vicinity told us that she had suffered 3 years of torture with neuritis pains. She said she felt like a sharp knife was being gouged into her muscles, and sometimes these pains would strike her like an electric shock. She said one could hardly stand it. Today this lady is again enjoying life and she says the change is due to taking TRU-AID. Her pains are gone now. No more feeling like a knife gouged into her muscles. She is entirely free of her misery, thanks to this remarkable compound.

Isabel Randinelli And Louis J. Vescio Are Wed July 10th

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Randinelli, Irvine, announce the marriage of their daughter, Isabel, to Louis J. Vescio, son of Mrs. Mary Vescio, 1406 Pennsylvania avenue, west, this city.

The ceremony was performed at 11 a. m. Saturday, July 10, in St. Luke's church in Irvine. Father Edward Jacobs officiated before an altar beautifully decorated with gladioli. Choir members from St. Joseph's church, Warren, sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother". Andrew and Benjamin Randinelli, brother of the bride, served Father Jacobs at the altar.

The bride wore traditional white satin with train, chiffon inserts marking an off-the-shoulder neckline. Her lace-edged veil fell fingertip length from a beaded coronet and red roses fashioned her bouquet.

She was given in marriage by her father and attended by Philomena Randinelli, Tidoute, as maid of honor; Mrs. Isabel Atkin, Grove City, and Betty Johnson, Jamestown, N. Y., as bridesmaids. Their frocks were of taffeta, in aqua, pink and yellow, respectively, with matching flower head bandeaus. The maid of honor and Mrs. Atkin carried pink roses; Miss Johnson's were of a yellow shade.

John Randinelli, brother of the bride, was best man for Mr. Vescio and ushers were Dominic DeMarco, nephew of the bridegroom, and Anthony Font.

The bride's mother chose a yellow sheer print and the bridegroom's mother wore navy, each with red rose corsage.

Dinner was served at the Marconi Outing Club for 70 guests and the reception was held there from two until five o'clock for 100 guests. Carnations were used in the bride's table appointments.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, Charles Goss, Jeanette Connolly, Mrs. Flannigan, Lorraine Brakman, Evelyn Bedient, Mary Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. Manwood Smith, Audrey Aigren, Lois Meeder, Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Randinelli, Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. John Principi, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Piccirillo, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Carvino, Ridgway; Ethel Wykoff, Corry.

For a wedding trip to Canadian points, the bride chose a gray gingham suit, with Kelly green accessories, and red rose corsage. The couple will be at home after July 18 at Irvine.

The bride, graduated from Warren High School with the Class of 1941 and the W. C. A. Hospital School of Nursing in 1947, is currently employed by the latter institution.

Mr. Vescio attended the local high school and is employed by the G. G. Greene Company.

Pre-nuptial parties were given by Mrs. Andrew Randinelli and Mrs. Joseph Kulbacki, mother and aunt of the bride; Mrs. Helen

Chapter 3

SLID past him and into the house, very official. "More investigation?" he asked, following me.

"Just routine," I soothed him. "I want to see the place where Mr. Ealing died. Just tell me where it is, and keep watch by this door, Mr.—"

"Kuhl, James Kuhl. I'm a lawyer, Diane. Mrs. Ealing asked me to come and help out. Mr. Ealing was found dead in his gun room to the left there."

"Who's here besides yourself and Mrs. Ealing?"

"Two servants in the kitchen."

"Thanks," I said, and walked through the house. In the kitchen I found a pudgy man and a younger woman, both past middle age. "Police check-up," I told them, and they said they were the ward man and housekeeper, Mr. and Mrs. William Pettigrew. The man had a mitten of bandage on his right hand and I wondered about it but took no time to ask.

I wanted to go to the gun room and stepped back into the hall. I found the door, a heavy one that opened inward. Its lock was smashed loose. Somebody had kicked the door open.

I went in. There was dark brown carpeting on the floor and in the center showed a big smear of dried blood. The place was full of guns—modern ones racked like organ pipes in a glass-fronted cabinet, and older, shoveler ones crossed or slanted on the wall to make a show.

Then there was a fine old mahogany desk, fitted up with two vases and a stool to make it into a work bench. Near it, at the edge of the brown carpet, stood a tightly made wooden box expert rigs up to catch fired bullets in for special examination. I dipped into the drawers of the desk.

"What do you think you're looking for?" asked a sweet, deadly voice behind me.

In the doorway stood a woman of thirty or so, with sorrel hair and steady green eyes.

She wore a blue negligee that showed off her tallish, trimish figure in a way that ordinarily would bring a whistle. But I didn't give way to admiration. For in her hand she held a shiny gun, no longer than her forefinger.

"I understand," she said, "that you told the servants you were a police detective. That is a lie. I know all the men of the homicide detail. They were good friends of my husband."

So she was Diane Ealing.

"STAND easy there, fakes," said James Kuhl's voice over her shoulder. "Give me the gun, Diane."

He took it. "Hands up," he said to me.

Remembering the hole in Ealing's body, I lifted my hands. "Diane," he said, "call the police."

She started to go, but I called: "Wait!"

Her green eyes turned back. "Wait for what?"

"I won't stay here to be arrested," I said. "I'm going, very quietly. You shoot me, it will be the second shooting in this room, and the cops will think that borders on the peculiar."

They stood looking. I lowered one hand and pointed to the gun Kuhl held. "The second shooting," I elaborated, "with that kind of a gun." It was just the sort of artillery that must have killed Ealing.

Kuhl and Diane Ealing looked at each other.

"Jim," said Diane Ealing, turning to Kuhl. She was white, and looked sick enough to drop. "Get him out of here."

I went. At the front door he tapped my shoulder with the nose of the derringer.

"Turn around."

I turned. He switched the gun to his left hand, and belted me with his right.

I couldn't quite slip inside the punch. His knuckles, shooting for my jaw, caught me on the left eye.

That's a souvenir. Now march. Don't come back."

I couldn't argue against the deringer.

J. D. sat in the car. When she saw me, her two-tone eyes lighted up and she smiled happily.

"Who hit you?" she squealed.

I touched my swelling eye.

"That man Kuhl."

"Get in," she said, "and tell me if you got anything in there besides the black eye."

While we whizzed back downtown, I told her about the deringer. "Ealing was drilled with a big bullet that didn't go clear through him," I reminded her.

"Police will be holding the death gun," said J. D.

"Then the one I saw will be the mate to it. Those old deringers were sold in pairs. How time flies in your chariot. Here we are in front of our office building."

Up at the office we went on talking. "Now, about Attorney Jim Kuhl," she took up the story. "He seems mighty solid with the lovely widow."

"Did Mrs. Unhappy Ealing kill her husband and make it look like suicide? That's another angle."

"And the servants," reminded J. D.

"Still another angle. There's Dr. Stokes, the man I met at the morgue."

"The papers say he was present when the body was found." J. D. thought for a moment. "Jack, how much money have you?"

"I must have stashed. 'Maybe fifty dollars. Why?' 'Because when I gave you a job, I hadn't any money for you. It had better be just a partnership.'"

I grinned, to cheer her up. "Full partner?"

She smiled back. "Junior partner. It's my town. I have the connections. And the case was mine to start with."

"It's a deal. Let's have dinner at a good restaurant to celebrate the new firm."

She shook her head. "No, let's save money. Buy a steak and bring it to my apartment. I'll cook it for us."

I did, and she did. And could J. D. Thatcher cook!

O'Connor and Amacher Nuptials Are Read In The Holy Redeemer Church

Holy Redeemer church was the scene of a pretty summer wedding Saturday morning, July 10, when Helen Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Amacher, 109 Crescent street, became the bride of Joseph O'Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. O'Connor, 201 Church street, Sheffield.

Father M. E. Dailey, pastor, and Father M. J. Macken, assistant, were on the altar, the former performing the ceremony. Altar decorations were carried out with palms and baskets of gladioli and delphinium.

Evelyn Donnelly was at the organ and played accompaniments for the bridegroom's father, who sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother." In addition, Mrs. Donnelly and Mr. O'Connor sang "Gentle Mother, Watching Over Us."

The bridegroom was of traditional white satin with fitted bodice and long train. The sweetheart neckline was trimmed with seed pearls, princess sleeves tapered to points over wrists and tiny satin buttons fastened the bodice from neckline to waist. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and her bouquet of white roses was centered with a white orchid and showered with satin streamers.

She was given in marriage by her father and had as her maid of honor Donna Sutter, of Warren. Miss Sutter wore pink lace and marquisette, with matching tiara of lace and shoulder length marquisette veil. Her flowers were pink roses and blue bachelor buttons, with yellow streamers. Two bridesmaids, Mrs. Frank A. Amacher, Jr., of Warren, and Mrs. Thomas Sanford, Sheffield, were gowned in pale yellow and two others, Mary Driscoll and Kathryn Barrett, Warren, wore pale green. Their frocks were designed like that of Miss Sutter and their colonial bouquets were of Talsman roses, bachelor buttons and Talsman colored streamers for the first two; pink roses and matching streamers for the others.

Completing the bridal party were Eddie Marks, Pittsburgh, as best man; and the following ushers: Frank Amacher, Jr., Warren; Thomas Sanford and Beryl Burlingame, Sheffield; Don Shuffell, Columbus, O.

Mrs. Amacher chose a frock of light blue crepe, with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of white roses and pink sweet peas. Mrs. O'Connor's dress of dusty rose crepe was complemented with white accessories and a corsage of white roses and blue delphinium.

The reception followed at the YWCA from two until four o'clock.

O'Connor and Amacher Nuptials Are Read In The Holy Redeemer Church

Holy Redeemer church was the scene of a pretty summer wedding Saturday morning, July 10, when Helen Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Amacher, 109 Crescent street, became the bride of Joseph O'Connor, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. O'Connor, 201 Church street, Sheffield.

Father M. E. Daley, pastor, and Father M. J. Macdon, Clarendon, were on the altar, the former performing the ten o'clock service. Altar decorations were carried out with palms and baskets of gladioli and delphinium.

Evelyn Donnelly was at the organ and played accompaniments for the bridegroom's father, who sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother." In addition, Mrs. Donnelly sang "Gentle Mother, Watching O'er Us."

The bridegroom was of traditional white satin, with fitted bodice and long train. The sweetheart neckline was trimmed with seed pearls, princess sleeves tapered to points over wrists, and tiny satin buttons fastened the bodice from neckline to waist. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls and her bouquet of white roses was centered with a white orchid and showered with satin streamers.

She was given in marriage by her father and had as her maid of honor Donna Sutter, of Warren. Miss Sutter wore pink lace and marquisette, with matching tiara of lace and shoulder length marquisette veil. Her flowers were pink roses and blue bachelor buttons, with yellow streamers. Two bridesmaids, Mrs. Frank A. Amacher, Jr., of Warren, and Mrs. Thomas Sanford, Sheffield, were gowned in pale yellow and two others, Mary Driscoll and Kathryn Barrett, Warren, wore pale green. Their frocks were designed like that of Miss Sutter and their colonial bouquets were of Talsman roses, bachelor buttons and Talsman colored streamers. For the first two, pink roses and matching streamers for the others.

Completing the bridal party were Eddie Marks, Pittsburgh, as best man; and the following ushers: Frank Amacher, Jr., Warren; Thomas Sanford and Beryl Burlingame, Sheffield; Don Shuff-stall, Columbus, O.

Mrs. Amacher chose a frock of light blue crepe, with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of white roses and pink sweet peas. Mrs. O'Connor's dress of dusty rose crepe was complemented with white accessories and a corsage of white roses and blue delphinium.

The reception followed at the YWCA from two until four o'clock.

where the bride's table was centered with a garden bouquet and tall white tapers and presided over by Madeline Egan and Joan Fuller, Warren, with Mrs. Eddie Marks, Pittsburgh, at the punch bowl. Mrs. Alice Mickelson cut the five-tiered cake, which was square in design and topped with bridal figures in miniature.

The guest list of 200 included the following from out of town: Mrs. Charles Richardson, Lockport, N. Y.; Mrs. Kihlre Wolfe and family, Halsey Station; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arnold, Kane; Mrs. Louis Dickenson, Smithport; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Miller, Akeley; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nufter, Monongahela; Mr. Kronenwetter, St. Marys; Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Marks, Mrs. A. W. Marks, Pittsburgh; Don Shuffstall, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Crowner, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry O'Connor, Wellsville, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schwan, Wayland, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Nyce, David Nyce, Geneva, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, Jr., John Moore, Sr., Ray Moore, Philadelphia, and many Sheffield guests.

After a two-week wedding trip to Buffalo, Canada and the eastern states, the couple will be at home to friends at 207 Pickering street, Sheffield. For travel, the bride chose a green and white print dress, white accessories, the orchid from her bridal bouquet, and an onyx bracelet, the bridegroom's gift.

The bride is a graduate of the local high school and was formerly employed as a supervisor for the Bell Telephone Company here. The bridegroom, graduate of Sheffield High School, served overseas with the armed forces, and is now manager of the O'Connor Machine Company in Sheffield.

Those who honored the bride-elect with parties were Miss Sutter, Mrs. Frank Amacher, Jr., and Mrs. Sanford, a luncheon at the Carver Hotel; Mary Driscoll, a picnic supper at the Mickelson cottage at Oakview; Kathryn Barrett, a kitchen shower; Madeline Egan and Joan Fuller, personal shower; Mrs. Maxwell Arnold and Mrs. Marshall Barnhart, miscellaneous showers. The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents for 21 guests at the Carver Hotel and the wedding breakfast was given at the same place, when the bride's parents entertained 25 guests.

Clarendon Old Home Week Declared a Great Success

Clarendon's Old Home Week celebration, which came to a close on Saturday, is now history and termed one of the finest the community has ever had.

The Kiddies' Parade Friday evening, first of its kind in a Clarendon Old Home Week, was directed by Mrs. Emma A. Miller and Dorothy Bedner. More than 300 youngsters from that vicinity participated in the parade and competed for the following prizes: Prettiest, Jean Jackson; most comical, Melvin Atwell and Gerald Croley; most original, Mary Lou Anderson, Carol Dickerson and Johnny Mitchell. Acting as judges for this feature were Georgeann Shea, Mary Blume, Shirley Mason, Lloyd Knight and Gene Miller.

A good-sized crowd turned out for the old fashioned hoodoo held that evening in the IOOF Hall, with music furnished by a trio, Pete, Don and Junior, and Snowball doing the calling.

On Saturday, a crowd estimated at more than 7,000 persons turned out for the mammoth veteran-float parade, which moved promptly at 6:30 o'clock. The affair proved one of the largest and most colorful parades ever held in Clarendon and resulted in awarding of prizes to the following:

First prize of $75, Burt, N. Y. Drums and Bugle Corps, first, and Sheffield VFW Band, second; best ladies' auxiliary marching unit, $25, Burt, N. Y.; best men's marching unit, $25, Russell Fire Department; unit traveling greatest distance, $20, Lakewood, N. Y. Fire Department; best appearing fire apparatus, $15, Lakewood, N. Y. Fire Department; best appearing float, $15, Russell Fire Department; most comical unit, $15, Camp Sunshine.

One of the featured units, unable to compete for any of the awards but receiving a big hand from the sidelines, was the Clarendon Fire Department Ladies' Auxiliary Corps, participating for the first time in their new white dress uniforms.

Unexplained circumstances prevented appearance of the Bradford American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, only scheduled unit not to appear.

Judges for the parade were Mrs. Verda Yagge, Mrs. C. J. Wykoff,

Miss Gertrude Benson, Fred Bauers, Clayton Larson, Carl Waldeck, James Schmoneky, Rev. Grant Mottern, Rev. C. C. Van. Lloyd Knight was general parade chairman; Marion J. Walker, marshal; Lawrence Blair and Joseph Montore, aides.

The Veterans' Grand Ball, which took place Saturday evening, was attended by more than 300 persons. "Tex" Dobbs' Band furnished the music.

Grand awards for the week were given to Melvin C. Anderson, Clarendon, Bendix washer, and an Erie resident, the Majestic record-player.

Committeemen from the Marshall Larsen Post, VFW, sponsors of the celebration, who did a magnificent job in helping to make the affair so successful, were as follows:

General chairman, Patsy Valone; advertising, Joseph Montore and Marion Walker; parade, Lloyd Knight, Lloyd Peterson and Frank Nelson; carnival, Don Bathurst, Stephen Dickerson, Frank Walker; finance, Phillip Maines, Joe Dorcote; activities, Paul Check, Kenneth Larson, Gusti Arrigo, Robert Thomas, Charles Kavinsky, Ray Valone, Chester Walker, Rex Graham and Marion Mason.

Drowning At Chautauqua Monday Night

Jamestown, N. Y.—Lake Chautauqua experienced its third drowning of the year and the second in less than 30 hours Monday with the death of Walter Weise, 19, who resides on the Hartfield-Stockton road.

Young Weise, an employee of the Chautauqua County Welfare Department farm at Dewittville, was swimming with a group of fellow workers in the vicinity of Point Chautauqua dock. Shortly after 8 p. m. he is said to have dived from the dock into the water. The depth of the water in the vicinity of the dock was reported as being from seven to 15 feet.

Two unidentified companions, aged about 14 years, heard Weise yell for help and raced to his aid. They were unsuccessful in effecting a rescue and Weise's body went down out of sight. A quarter of an hour later the body was recovered and brought to the surface where artificial respiration was tried by members of the Maple Springs Volunteer Fire Department who had been called to the scene.

Five tanks of oxygen were also used in an effort to revive the youth. Two physicians in the area also were pressed into service and later pronounced Weise dead.

Coroner Theodore S. Morse of Chautauqua county, who conducted an investigation, issued a certificate of accidental death by drowning.

WRITER IN JAMESTOWN

Titusville Herald: E. George Lindstrom of Jamestown, N. Y., formerly of Oil City and Cleveland, was a visitor in Titusville yesterday and visited two places you would expect to visit if you knew the man. The first was Drake Well Memorial Park because he knows the Original Oil Region so well and has written a great deal about it. Last year, Mr. Lindstrom wrote a book, "Out of the Sand," and yesterday left a copy of it at the Museum for its library. The other place visited by Mr. Lindstrom was The Herald office because, although retired, he still likes the odor of printer's ink and he knows some of the staff. The publisher of The Herald was a struggling reporter—struggling is the word—on the Oil City Derrick when Mr. Lindstrom was a linotype operator on the same newspaper. From Oil City Mr. Lindstrom went to Cleveland where he established a type composition business. Three months ago he retired and is living at Jamestown, which is where he started. Mr. Lindstrom left with the publisher

Market Quotations

New York, July 13—(AP)—Conflicting price trends developed in the stock market today.

Some rail issues tried to carry through yesterday's advance but demand, as elsewhere, lacked any real drive. Few stocks strayed more than fractionally either way from the previous close.

Only slim turnover developed following two days of trading that each topped the 1,000,000-share market.

Higher prices were paid for Kansas City Southern, Southern Pacific, Nickel Plate, Atlantic Coast Line, Goodrich, Electric Power & Light, American Woolen and Texas Co.

On the losing side were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Firestone Tire, Woolworth, Deere, Douglas Aircraft, Commonwealth Edison, Westinghouse Electric, Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, and Standard Oil (N.Y.).

Nationals Face Patched-Up Rivals In All-Star Contest

St. Louis, July 12.—The National League had everything to lose and little to gain today as it squared off against its American League rival in the 15th annual All-Star baseball game.

A victory over the battered and undermanned American League outfit is imperative for the Nationals. This is the one of the senior circuit. They have suffered 10 patchings in 14 outings since last season's third straight, were minus their "Big Four" consisting of sluggers Ted Williams and Joe Mauer, and ace pitchers Hal Newhouse and Bob Feller. In addition, George Kell selected as the league's No. 1 third baseman was stricken as a starter.

Tommie Herrick of New York and Hoot Evers of Detroit were selected by Manager Mackey Harris to replace his two starting outfielders. Harris was declared by two, Vic Raschi of Joe Page as his starting pitcher.

Originally Newhouse, the Detroit Tigers' great lefthander, was slated to get the starting nod. However, he reported he was suffering from a sore arm and was replaced by Joe Dobson of Boston.

PONY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

PONY League officials today were studying an umpire's ruling that the Hornell Maple Leafs forfeited a game last night to the Wellsville Red Sox.

The umpire, a police escort out of Wellsville after some Brooklyn's pickering over two called third strikes. He trampled out no less than nine Leafs before calling the game in the top of the eighth inning. The Sox were leading, 3-1. If the forfeit is upheld, the score will be recorded as 9-0.

Meanwhile, the narrow gap between the two top teams was unchanged as the Lockport Reds and the Jamestown Falcons edged out identical 7-6 wins over the Olean Oilers and the Batavia Clippers, respectively.

A scheduled second Jamestown-Batavia clash that could have squeezed the Falcons into first place was postponed on account of rain.

The Hamilton Cardinals scored a double victory over the Bradford Elms Wings first 12-4 and then 5-3.

Today's schedule: Lockport at Olean, Hamilton at Bradford, Batavia at Jamestown, Wellsville at Hornell.

Bears see poorly with their snail eyes, but have a keen sense of smell.

Beau Jack Is Flattened By Ike Williams

Philadelphia, July 13.—(AP)—Ike Williams finally found an opponent who didn't know what it meant to backtrack and the string bean led from Trenton, N. J., used him as a medium to prove he's a great lightweight champion.

Williams scored a six-round technical knockout last night over Beau Jack, windmill-swinging former shoe shine boy who sought to make boxing history by becoming the first fighter ever to win the same title three times. Each fight entered the ring at 134 pounds.

A disappointing crowd of 12,952 paid $33,787 at Shibe park and saw the ever-advancing Jack swarm all over the champion in the early rounds. Williams, jabbing and counter-punching, simply waited patiently for an opening.

In the sixth, the champion caught Jack with a left hook and, battering him with countless rights and lefts, punned him against the ropes. Ike looked to stop it but he said no.

"Keep fighting, Ike," shouted

PIAA Delays Decision On Coach Rule

Harrisburg, July 13.—(AP)—The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association today postponed a decision on a proposed rule for a year the effective date of a new rule barring competition with non-member schools using part-time coaches.

The action allows the PIAA's 1,039 member schools to compete with parochial schools for another year. The vote in a recent referendum was 387 to 211 in favor of postponing until Sept. 1, 1949, the effective date of the recently adopted bylaw.

The bylaw was enacted by member schools in a referendum last fall. It was to become effective Sept. 1, 1948.

The Pennsylvania Catholic Interscholastic Athletic Association interceded, however, and asked the PIAA board of control to authorize a referendum for a one-year postponement.

The Rev. Harold E. Keller, PCI AA president, said 38 of the 100 schools now have full-time teacher-coaches. He asked for more time to permit fuller compliance with the full-time coach proposal.

Parochial schools, for the most part, have athletic rules similar to those of the PIAA, except that some permit part-time coaches since nuns comprise the faculty.

Nationals Face Patched-Up Rivals In All-Star Contest

St. Louis, July 12.—(AP)—The National League had everything to lose and little to gain today as it squared off against its American League rival in the 15th annual All-Star baseball game.

A victory over the battered and undermanned American League outfit is imperative for the Nationals will lose a load of prestige. This is the one the senior circuit-men, who have suffered 10 pastings in 14 outings, must win.

The American League, seeking their third straight, were minus their "Big Four" consisting of DiMaggio and ace pitchers Hal Newhouse and Bob Feller. In addition, George Kell, selected as the league's No. 1 third baseman, was stricken as a starter.

Tommy Henrich of New York and Hoot Evers of Detroit were selected by Manager Bucky Harris to replace his two sterling outfielders. Harris was undecided between Vic Raschi or Joe Page as his starting pitcher.

Originally Newhouse, the Detroit Tigers' great lefthander, was slated to get the starting nod. Hal, however, reported he was suffering from buritis and could not pitch. Feller, although hale and hearty, bowed out and was replaced by Joe Dobson of Boston.

Glendora Coffee Baseballers Trims Rival VFW Nine, 6 to 2

Glendora Coffee defeated its arch rivals the Warren V. F. W., 6 to 2, behind the two-hit pitching of Keith Vesling in a second-half Sunset Baseball League scrap on Russell field last night.

Vesling, who struck out six batters and walked only one man, allowed no hits until the sixth frame when Jack Kifer smacked a double. The only other hit for the

PONY LEAGUE

By The Associated Press

PONY League officials today were studying an umpire's ruling that the Hornell Maple Leafs forfeited a game last night to the Wellsville Red Sox.

The umpire had a police escort out of Wellsville after some Brooklynish bickering over two called third strikes. He thumbed out no less than nine Leafs before calling the game in the top of the eighth inning. The Sox were leading, 3-1. If the forfeit is upheld, the score will be recorded as 9-0.

Meanwhile, the narrow gap between the two top teams was unchanged as the Lockport Reds and the Jamestown Falcons eked out identical 7-6 wins over the Olean Oilers and the Batavia Clippers, respectively.

A scheduled second Jamestown-Batavia clash that could have squeezed the Falcons into first place was postponed on account of rain.

The Hamilton Cardinals scored a double victory over the Bradford Blue Wings, first 12-4 and then 5-2.

Today's schedule: Lockport at Olean, Hamilton at Bradford, Batavia at Jamestown, Wellsville at Hornell.

Bears see poorly with their small eyes, but have a keen sense of smell.

Beau Jack Is Flattened By Ike Williams

Philadelphia, July 13.—(AP)—Like Williams finally found an opponent who didn't know what it meant to backtrack and the string bean kid from Trenton, N. J., used him as a medium to prove he's a great lightweight champion.

Williams scored a six-round technical knockout last night over Beau Jack, windmill-swinging former shoe shine boy who sought to make boxing history by becoming the first fighter ever to win the same title three times. Each fighter entered the ring at 134 pounds.

A disappointed crowd of 12,952 paid $83,787 at Shibe park and saw the ever-advancing Jack swarm all over the champion, jabbing in the early rounds, punching, simplifying and counter-punching, simply waited patiently for an opening.

In the sixth, the champion caught Jack with a left hook and, battering him with countless rights and lefts, pinned him against the ropes. Ike looked to Referee Charley Daggert to stop it but he said no.

"Keep fighting, Ike," shouted Daggert above the tumult of the crowd.

Jack wanted to fall but he couldn't and finally Daggert stepped in and called a halt after 33 seconds of the round.

PIAA Delays Decision On Coach Rule

Harrisburg, July 13.—(P)—The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association today postponed for a year the effective date of a new rule barring competition with non-member schools using part-time coaches.

The action allows the PIAA's 1,039 member schools to compete with parochial schools for another year. The vote in a recent referendum was 587 to 211 in favor of postponing until Sept. 1, 1949, the effective date of the recently adopted bylaw.

The bylaw was enacted by members in a referendum last fall. It was to become effective Sept. 1, 1948.

The Pennsylvania Catholic Interscholastic Athletic Association interceded, however, and asked the PIAA board of control to authorize a referendum for a one-year postponement.

The Rev. Harold E. Keller, PCI AA president, said 36 of the 100 schools now have full-time teacher-coaches. He asked for more time to permit fuller compliance with the full-time coach proposal.

Parochial schools, for the most part, have athletic rules similar to those of the PIAA, except that some permit part-time coaches since nuns comprise the faculty.

Presbyterian Picnic Plans

Reports from committee members indicate a very large number are planning to attend the First Presbyterian church picnic tomorrow afternoon and evening at Midway Park.

Many are starting as early as one or two o'clock in order to have a swimming party in early afternoon and before the moshball game. Last minute instructions from those in charge read as follows:

Start as early as you can to get the most out of this annual event. The children will enjoy the bathing, merry-go-round, swings and slides, pony rides, etc.

If you need a ride, hurry and call one of the committee members or the church office. If enough people need transportation, a bus will be hired. Call right away so the committee can determine if it will be needed. Those who may be able to take passengers even as late as 5 p. m., are asked to call the church office right away.

Remember, bring your own basket picnic, the ice cream, coffee, cream and sugar to be furnished. Make up a party and bring your swimming suits and cameras, too. There will be lots of fun for all.

Brilliant Pianist Coming To Celoron

Jack Fina of the "ten talented fingers" has gained national reputation as one of our most brilliant pianists. He appears at the Pier, Celoron Park, on July 17th with his orchestra—16 artists.

Jack made his first professional appearances as an accompanist for NEC, CBS and the Mutual Broadcasting System in New York. From these networks Jack joined Clyde McPherson's band as featured artist, and then came his memorable union with Freddie Martin.

It was during his association with Martin that Mr. Fina was accorded national acclaim for his arrangements of Tchaikowsky's Concerto, Max Steiner's Symphony Moderne and Rimsky-Korsakov's Flight of the Bumble Bee. (Bumble Boogie).

In 1946 Jack left Freddie Martin to form his own band. Public response was heartwarming. In addition to playing at leading coast showplaces Jack found time to make motion pictures for Columbia—"It's Great To Be Young,"

YOUNGSVILLE NEWS

Youngsville, July 12—Mrs. Margie Finlan, Janet Henry and Elsie Driscoll have just returned from a very interesting southern motor trip. Points of interest included State College, Gettysburg, a day in Washington, D. C., and a trip to Mount Vernon by way of boat on the Potomac River. The party enjoyed their stay in Williamsburg, Va., visiting the restored old mansions, and the ancient church in which Washington worshipped. In Williamsburg they met a former Youngsville and Warren school physical director, Miss Helen Vaughn. Miss Vaughn was en route from Warm Springs to New York City, where she was to attend a convention. The group also visited Richmond, Va., and saw Glastonbury Point. They took the Sky Line Drive north and visited Carlisle, traveled the Pennsylvania Turnpike to Pittsburgh and home, making a trip of 1400 miles. A card just received from Mrs.

Gertrude Smith, who is en route to California with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Conklin and sons, stated the party is taking a northern route. The card was sent from the Mt. Rushmore Memorial, Black Hills, S. D. Mrs. Willis Kay will be hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Red Circle.

A thirteen supper meeting of the local W. C. T. U. will be held Friday afternoon with Mrs. H. H. Husted.

The last auditorium service until remodeling and decorating is completed in the Methodist church will be on Sunday, July 18. On Monday all men of the church who can do so are asked to come to the church to remove all large chairs and choir chairs to the basement. The church pews are to be removed and placed in the large Sunday school room. In fact, all movable furniture and articles will be taken from this room and services will be held in the basement for some time.

Miss Myrtle Norman who is on vacation from her teaching position in Akron, Ohio, visited her sister, Mrs. Wave Carlson, Sunday.

Robert Mead, R. E. Crandall, William Clark, with Erle friends, are on a fishing trip in Canada.

Mrs. Elizabeth Holiday, former resident, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schnell, has returned to her home in Falls Church, Va., near Washington, D. C.

Presbyterian Picnic Plans

Reports from committee members indicate a very large number are planning to attend the First Presbyterian church picnic tomorrow afternoon and evening at Midway Park.

Many are starting as early as one or two o'clock in order to have a swimming party in early afternoon and before the mullin game. Last minute instructions from those in charge read as follows:

Start as early as you can to get the most out of this annual event. The children will enjoy the bathing, merry-go-round, swings and slides, pony rides, etc.

If you need a ride, hurry and call one of the committee members or the church office. If enough people need transportation, a bus will be hired. Call right away so the committee can determine if it will be needed. Those who may be able to take passengers even as late as 8 p. m., are asked to call the church office right away.

Remember, bring your own basket picnic; the ice cream, coffee, cream and sugar to be furnished. Make up a party and bring your swimming suits and cameras, too. There will be lots of fun for all.

Brilliant Pianist Coming To Celoron

Jack Fina of the "ten talented fingers" has gained national reputation as one of our most brilliant pianists. He appears at the Pier, Celoron Park, on July 17th with his orchestra—16 artists.

Jack made his first professional appearances as an accompanist for NBC, CBS and the Mutual Broadcasting System in New York. From these networks Jack joined Clyde McCoy's band as featured artist, and then came his memorable union with Freddie Martin.

It was during his association with Martin that Mr. Fina was accorded national acclaim for his arrangements of Tchaikovsky's Concerto, Max Steiner's Symphony Moderne and Rimsky-Korsakoff's Flight of the Bumble Bee (Bumble Boogie).

In 1946 Jack left Freddie Martin to form his own band. Public response was heartwarming. In addition to playing at leading coast showplaces Jack found time to make motion pictures for Columbia—"It's Great To Be Young,"

YOUNGSVILLE NEWS

Youngsville, July 12—Mrs. Margie Finlan, Janet Henry and Elsie Driscoll have just returned from a very interesting southern motor trip. Points of interest included State College, Gettysburg, a day in Washington, D. C., and a trip to Mount Vernon by way of boat on the Potomac River. The party enjoyed their stay in Williamsburg, Va., visiting the restored old mansions, and the ancient church in which Washington worshipped. In Williamsburg they met a former Youngsville and Warren school physical director, Miss Helen Vaughn. Miss Vaughn was en route from Warm Springs to New York City, where she was to attend a convention. The group also visited Richmond, Va., and saw Gloster Point. They took the Sky Line Drive north and visited Carlisle, traveled the Pennsylvania Turnpike to Pittsburgh and home, making a trip of 1400 miles. A card just received from Mrs.

Gertrude Smith, who is en route to California with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Conklin and sons, stated the party is taking a northern route. The card was sent from the Mt. Rushmore Memorial, Black Hills, S. D. Mrs. Willis Kay will be hostess Tuesday afternoon to the Red Circle.

A tureen supper meeting of the local W. C. T. U. will be held Friday afternoon with Mrs. H. H. Husted.

The last auditorium service until remodeling and decorating is completed in the Methodist church will be on Sunday, July 18. On Monday all men of the church who can do so are asked to come to the church to remove all large chairs and chair covers to the basement. The church pews are to be removed and placed in the large Sunday school room. In fact, all movable furniture and articles will be taken from this room and services will be held in the basement for some time.

Miss Myrtle Norman who is on vacation from her teaching position in Akron, Ohio, visited her sister, Mrs. Wave Carlson, Sunday.

Robert Mead, R. E. Crandall, William Clark, with Erle friends, are on a fishing trip in Canada.

Mrs. Elizabeth Holiday, former resident, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schnell, has returned to her home in Falls Church, Va., near Washington, D. C.

Occasionally we hear of very good fish caught in the Brokenstraw, a 2½ pound trout being reported caught recently near the
